Appellants Response to Appellee's Supplemental Response of Defendants (KML Law Group Inc)

To : The Hon. Legrome D Davis ;

This is the Plaintiff/appellants response to the defendant appellee KML's supplemental response to appellants appeal ;

1. First and foremost the court should take into account, and judicial notice of the fact that the Superior Court of Pennsylvania was given proper notice of pending bankruptcy proceedings as it appears on the readily available Pocket entries of that court which was the substance of the adversary Plaintiff Motion to defer, and/or application for relief which was denied, by that State court .

2. That after that state court had proper notice of the subject matter jurisdiction being before the state court proceeded anyway without authority to do so under the bankruptcy laws.
3. That the document attached to the appellees Supplemental has not one "John Hancock" from any of the judicial authorities it was supposedly generated by; and that the order/opinion is not a clerical order or house keeping order.
4. Question to what extent do the Federal courts assign weight to the orders of State Courts such as the one attaches to the appellee supplement, which come from a tribunal that had notice of removal of the subject matter jurisdiction into the Federal Judicial system, and proceed anyway?
5. That when the Petitioner/Defendant Evelyn Reiss chose to file a bankruptcy before the Federal Judicial system She opened the door, and invoked the 'absolute' jurisdiction and authority over all aspects of the estate, including the income, debts/liabilities insurance coverages, property, and the actions of the Estates Legal representatives, misconduct or concealment.

6. All too often the trial lawyers, the trial courts, and appellate court abuse, overuse, and/or misuse the doctrine in Wilkins v. Marsico 903 A.2d 1281, 1284-1285 (Pa. Super 200) to stifle the voices of the poor, and commoners who present their cases before them, which has become a monopoly on justice, and the administration of justice in the state courts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Legal aid groups will not take tort cases, and if the sharks don't see an easy meal from, an insurance carrier they won't take the cases either, this is one of those cases.
7. That had the state courts not been so inattentive of the matter before them they would have seen the essence of the claim and the necessity of action to enforce, and save said plaintiff/appellants rights pursuant to the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil procedure No# 3159 A (6), and the Statutory authority underlying, and predicated the Rule which is Section 1 of the act approved May 24th 1933 PL 987, 40 Pa. S. 117.

8. That the issue of the unfairness of the state courts is on top of the subject matter jurisdiction problem, and is illustrated by a taking into account the statement in the opinion order attached to the appellees supplement on page 6 paragraph 2 foot note #4, and in contrast with the rules of that court at O.A. R.A.P. (2151 b) "this court may only consider items which have been included in the certified record and those items which do not appear of record do not exist for appellant purposes".

The appellant before that state court was not required to reproduce the record. By the rule

9. It was clearly the Goliath corporate attorneys harping on the appellants Pro Se' status and lack of a reproduced record that distracted the State Court from discerning the Plaintiff/appellant / judgement holders rights under the law, and that it was also not a bad faith claim in the insurance industry, but BAD FAITH in their conduct as attorneys and spiteful concealment of the insurance information complained of.

10. Nonetheless despite the state courts refusal to enforce the order on the insurance issue and honor its rule in (PA.R.A.P. 2151 b), and the appellees stereotyping, and chastizing of the appellant on the Trial matter at no reproduced record attached to appellants Brief the appearance of the order to produce the insurance information shines through the cloud created by appellees in their own brief in the case management order issued by the trial court at (c) a copy of the order appearing at page # 093 in appellee brief in superior court, which is a copy of the Packet in the trial court Lynch v Rivera 150304249,
11. The conduct of the specific appellees KML Law Group, representing Bank of America, and Bayview Loan servicing is clearly spiteful, underhanded and dastardly, and serve no legitimate legal purpose other than to hinder, obstruct, circumvent and/or deprive the appellant here of recovery either by the filing of an insurance claim with the carrier for the estate, or after execution by suit against the carrier pursuant to the law,

Wherefore appellant respectfully request that this Honorable United States District Court put an end to the corporate giants shell game over the just compensation for the tort claim in the estate, and orders the appellees
to produce the insurance coverage or face the sale of the property with the Priority status forfeited, and sanctions for contempt.

Respectfully Submitted

John J Lynch

Superior Court of Pennsylvania

OFFICE OF THE PROTHONOTARY

Pennsylvania Rule of Appellate Procedure 124 requires that all filers leave the original of any paper filing unbound but securely clipped. Remaining copies are to be securely bound. This requirement applies to briefs and reproduced records.*

Those filing on paper must deliver briefs and reproduced records to their respective district filing offices as follows:

- 6 bound and 1 unbound copy of any brief
- 3 bound and 1 unbound copy of any reproduced record

Paper briefs and reproduced records must be accompanied by an electronic copy on CD or flash drive, formatted in PDF. Microsoft Word files are not acceptable.

Please note that Pa.R.A.P. 2185(a)(1), (2), concerning service and filing of briefs will be strictly enforced. The rule specifically limits the circumstances under which the date of mailing will be deemed the date of filing: "Briefs shall be deemed filed on the date of mailing if first class, express, or priority United States Postal Service mail is utilized." Deliveries made by commercial carrier do not qualify for such treatment and will be docketed with the date of receipt in the filing office.

Those who PACFile their brief and reproduced record must deliver the bound copies noted above, but should not provide the unbound copy, CD or flash drive.

Requirements for electronic copies:

- CD's and flash drives should be accompanied by an averment that the material included is an accurate and complete representation of the paper version of the filing.
- When possible the electronic version should be made by converting the word processing document directly to PDF. If a document must be scanned, it should be scanned using 300 dpi for black and white and 200 dpi for color.
- PDF documents should be saved as standard quality.
- Separate documents must be provided as separate files. For example, a separate brief and reproduced record should be separate files on the CD or flash drive.
- Name documents clearly, such as Brief for Appellant. Use only letters, numbers, dashes and spaces in naming.
- Label discs and flash drives with the Superior Court docket number, name of party and name of filing. Write on the disc with a permanent marker or print directly on the disc. Do not use mailing labels or other adhesive labels on discs. Flash drives may be identified with adhesive tags.

*NOTE: Appellants who proceed in forma pauperis (indigent status) need not file a reproduced record. Pa.R.A.P. 2151(b).
